ADD TO LIST

This great workflow feature will save you hours, prevent errors, and enable more informed decisions. Any user logged into BooksInPrint.com can create a title List following the simple instructions provided on the site. Lists can be password protected or public.

Create New List

Enter your new list name and desired expiration date in the boxes below. You must also specify whether the new list will be public or password protected. If the list is to be password protected, you must create a password and supply a valid e-mail address. Public lists may be viewed by anyone who has access to the account.

Date: 06/04/2004

List Name: Hinges List

List Comments: For Thursday Night Book Club

List Type: Public Password Protected

Re-enter Password: []

Enter e-mail address: []

CREATE LIST

You may edit your list, add comments, e-mail or print—to share with others or bring with you for reference. Students and researchers can use the List feature to gather information electronically for bibliographies and avoid re-keying errors. Booksellers and librarians can include valuable additional information, such as reviews or author bios, and share the augmented list with colleagues to facilitate decision-making for acquisitions.

To access your Lists later, select Lists in the top menu of any screen to edit, add comments, print or e-mail lists you've already created. You may add or delete Lists, or titles within any list, at any time. The List will be stored on Bowker's servers for 3 years.

You may also disable the ability to create and use lists. Go to My Account and then Detailed Account Information to disable lists.

DOWNLOAD

Download enables you to save title details in one of many formats. First, choose between Standard Download (title details in an ASCII-text, CSV or MARC format) or Order Download (title details in a vendor-specific format for import into your Library Automation or POS system).

The Download feature is available from Search Results (check the titles you wish to download) or Full Description. From a List you may choose Download from the Select Action for Entire List dropdown, or you may select items on your List and use Download Selected Titles from the drop down of actions for selected items.

Standard Download enables brief record or full record, plus added information may be selected, such as: synopsis, reviews, author biography, stock availability, and publisher information.

For more information on Order Download and setting up this feature, see page 11.

On the Download page you may select to download plain text (ASCII), or comma separated values (CSV) to create a spreadsheet. Select Full Record or Brief Record and check the additional information you need. Librarians may also download in USMARC or MARC21.
